CHAIRPERSON'S REPORT

It is my pleasure to present the forty seventh Annual Report of the Anglican Family Care Centre Incorporated Trust for 2018/2019.

The financial year ended 30 June 2019 recorded a net surplus of $46,643, a very pleasing outcome which follows on from the surplus recorded last year. Total revenue was up 3.7% on last year driven predominately by increases to government contract funding. Total expenses were tightly managed at only 3.2% above last year. Employee costs, representing 78.9% of total expenses, were up on 2018 at 78.0% which was in part attributable to a general wage increase applied in the latter part of the financial year.

Income received for the year from fundraising, donations, grants and other income totalled $394,495 (2018: $378,109). We are always very grateful for the generous contributions received from our individual donors and especially thankful for the significant grants received from community organisations, in particular the Otago Community Trust, Central Lakes Trust, Lion Foundation, Working Together More Fund, Trinity Foundation, Leslie Groves, The Trusts

Community Foundation, NZ Lottery Grants Board, Tindall Foundation, and Dunedin City Council.

Late last year we welcomed three new trustees to the Board. Jo Kingi, Ruth Zeinert and Elisabeth Cunningham (Diocese representative) who have all made immediate contributions with each bringing a very diverse range of skills, expertise and experience. In late 2018 Mary-Ann McKibben resigned from the Board to head back home to the UK, I thank Mary-Ann for her valued contribution over the last four years. The other members of the Board are Bishop Steven Benford, Hilary Allison, Sian Adamson, Bruce McCormick, Diana Hudson, and Kyle Forde. I acknowledge and thank the insightful input of all trustees this year, in particular the efforts that went into the full and thorough review of the strategic plan which resulted in an influential set of Agency objectives.

In December Nicola Taylor retired as the Director of the Agency, a role Nicola occupied for the past 15 years. During this time Nicola worked through many significant challenges facing both the Agency and the NGO sector. Nicola successfully grew the size and capability of the Agency implementing many important initiatives, new programs, restructures and very sound business practices. We are extremely grateful for the valuable contribution made by Nicola, characterised by her innovative thinking, strong networking skills, and brave and inspirational leadership. We wish Nicola all the very best in her retirement and future travels.

We are very fortunate to have appointed the highly capable Mike Williams to the role of General Manager. Mike was originally appointed as the Business Support Manager in mid-2018. Mike has been involved in the social services sector in Dunedin since 2001, firstly in community mental health before moving into NGO management. We welcome Mike into this vital leadership role, we know he will be very well supported by an experienced senior management team.

I would lastly like to acknowledge and thank the dedicated and talented staff of the Agency who utilise their skills and expertise to make important differences in the lives of those most vulnerable in our communities.

I move the adoption of the Chairperson's 2018/19 Report of the Anglican Family Care Centre Incorporated Trust.

GENERAL MANAGER'S REPORT

The previous 12 months have been a time of much change in personnel at Anglican Family Care. Most notably we farewelled our former Director, Nicola Taylor, after 15 years of service to the agency and I stepped up to the position of General Manager. Nicola's contribution in reshaping our organisation was substantial and cannot be overstated.

2019 has seen our staff give significant voice to a new Vision and Mission for the agency, which has been accompanied by a revitalised Strategic Plan for the 3 year period ahead.

The plan is focused on ensuring our vitality, relevance and sustainability into the future. There is much to be optimistic about. The pressure on our services across Otago remains high and our staff, volunteers and facilitators work with such passion, commitment and professionalism to meet the demand. Our people are, without doubt, our most valuable asset.

In terms of our relationships, we continue to build our connection with the Auckland based Anglican Trust for Women and Children. We have a mutually beneficial relationship with Pillars, who provide support to the children of imprisoned offenders and share office space with us in Dunedin. Our local connections within the Otago based social sector are also strong.

Financially we continue to operate within relatively tight margins. There has been much recent emphasis on fair funding and pay within the social services sector at a national level. This has been eased slightly very recently with increased government funding, which is very much welcomed. Our relationships with our contracting partners, and most importantly Oranga Tamariki, are positive. This is crucial as Oranga Tamariki continues its overhaul of the care and protection system.

Our board of trustees continue to offer strong stewardship to Anglican Family Care, and I must thank our Chair Jim Hawker in particular for his support and guidance. We are fortunate to have the benefit of the board's collective insight and experience- they are staunch advocates of our work. We also value our relationship with the Anglican Diocese, and thank Bishop Steven Benford, the Diocesan office team and the parish communities for their continued support.

Finally I must acknowledge the wonderful support we receive from donors, trusts and supporters of Anglican Family Care. We are so very grateful for the generous backing the agency receives. It contributes to the often life changing work that we do in our communities.

The need is considerable, but together we are making a difference.

Mike Williams

LONG SERVICE ACHIEVEMENTS

This year, we celebrate with Kathy Richards (Practice Manager) and Jackie Greenall (South Otago Social Worker) who have reached a milestone 25 years of working with Anglican Family Care. Ginnie Ravell also celebrates 10 years service to the agency.

NORTH OTAGO

Family Start in North Otago continues to thrive with a consistently full case load and waiting list. We have also been involved with "Laps not Apps" a joint initiative between Anglican Family Care, Oamaru Kindergarten Association and SKIP. The aim of this project is to ensure all children under the age of 5 have easy access to free children's books, to increase exposure to spoken language, build closer attachments with parents, increase early literacy and ultimately improve educational outcomes for these children. The community support has been overwhelming and has grown to be a much bigger project than we had anticipated. We now have boxes of free books at key locations throughout the district where parents are likely to be with their children including, cafes, pool, Plunket rooms, Work and Income, Mental Health and dental clinic. The next step is to have them at playgrounds, and Community Probation have offered to support this project by building the storage units at no cost to us, further increasing community involvement for this very worthwhile project.

OCEANS

OCEANS Grief and Loss Programme now offers facilitated groups for both children and adults and continues to be well supported in North Otago. This year we fare-welled Peggy Waite who established the OCEANS programme in Oamaru 3½ years ago and acknowledge the tremendous reputation that OCEANS has in the community and the positive benefits that have resulted for the children who have participated. Maria Johnston is the new Programme Co-ordinator and there are four new facilitators about to start their training.

SOUTH OTAGO

South Otago, our largest rural team with 7 staff (3 full time) continue to be actively supporting South Otago families to improve children's outcomes. This year we have looked at ways of enhancing the work that we do. We have now a counsellor providing individual counselling one day a week to parents and children who we are working with. We organised the Brainwave Trust to deliver a "Nurturing Your Tamariki" training session to a small group of parents who would not normally get to hear this information. We have started building a library of books to share with our families to build literacy and foster better child-parent relationships with a donation from Balclutha Inner Wheel.

CENTRAL OTAGO/QUEENSTOWN LAKES

Anglican Family Care has four staff who cover the Central Otago/Queenstown Lakes area. In the past year we have continued to promote the Family Start and Home-based services across this region by creating new relationships with other services/referrers which has resulted in a steady number of referrals and subsequent delivery of support to families with children. These families are trying to manage stressors that may be impacting on their ability to parent their children in the best way they can.

The Parishes across the area have come forward to engage with, and support us, in several ways; beautiful knitted garments for babies and children for winter, play mats for our new babies and donations of new books for families. One of our priorities is to promote reading to children and love of books, not only to build language development but also to consolidate attachments and share quality time with parents and caregivers. This type of community development allows for a wider circle of support to be around families.

FAMILIES RECEIVED HELP AROUND FAMILY VIOLENCE. 100% OF THESE REPORTED MORE AWARENESS OF THE IMPACT OF FAMILY VIOLENCE.

FAMILY START

This year sees Family Start celebrate 20 years delivering its intensive home visiting programme to whānau across Aotearoa. Anglican Family Care has been delivering this service for 19 years to whānau in Dunedin. In recent years we have expanded into North, South and Central Otago. This year a collective of Family Start providers across New Zealand organised and held the first Family Start Conference. The focus of the conference was to provide staff with professional development and training, while also celebrating 20 years of success.

FAMILIES UNDERTOOK THE FAMILY START PROGRAMME OVER THE LAST YEAR

With the support of Anglican Trust for Women and Children, 10 of our staff were able to attend the conference. Whānau workers were able to participate in workshops and hear from some high calibre speakers. Keynote speakers highlighted how Family Start is an intensive programme and the benefits for Whānau. They spoke of the reality that whānau in Aotearoa live in, and the need for communities to support each other, and that with the right support not only foster children but all children can thrive; we can break that intergenerational cycle. It was humbling to listen to those powerful speakers who believed in the work we do.

HOME]BASED FAMILY SUPPORT

Our Home-based Family Support programme involves working with parents/caregivers who want to develop and strengthen their parenting skills and confidence so that their children are able to reach their full potential.

CIRCLE OF SECURITY: MEGAN'S STORY

Circle of Security is a Parenting Programme that focuses on the connection between the child and parent/caregiver and helps to strengthen the relationship. We asked one of our clients to share their experience about the programme with us.

Megan is a solo mum to three daughters aged 14, 12 and 8 all with varying high health needs and had been attending counselling with her middle daughter who had ongoing severe anxiety and depression. Towards the end of their sessions, it was identified that their home environment was highly stressful, which was having an effect on everyone, including Megan, who had developed depression. "I often felt overwhelmed, lost and helpless" Megan explains. "Due to my children's health needs, I had resolved that my role as a Mum was always going to be hard and I was never going to have the happy positive household I had envisaged". The counsellor felt that some further support was required and made the referral to AFC.

Megan recalls having little knowledge of AFC and the services the agency offered, "I was actually anxious to have people come into my home for fear of being critiqued. I was blown away by how there was no judgement at all. My Social Worker Steph made me feel understood from the get-go. I had thought because I have children with severe anxiety, there would be no mainstream approach to help me raise them. Steph and I discussed options that may benefit us as a family, and from there I agreed to try The Circle of Security programme".

Social Worker, Steph, explains that the programme is based on attachment theory, focusing on the relationship and understanding that a child's behaviour is a message that children use to try and communicate to us what they need. "It's fundamentally different from a behavioural approach because it focuses on the relationship between the child and parent. The Circle of Security encourages us to look at what is behind the behaviour and ask why the child is acting this way. I see the relationship as the basket, if there are holes in a basket then behavioural strategies are going to fall through those holes. The relationships need to be strong first. Often what we find is when children are securely attached and are having their emotional needs met, there are fewer behavioural issues."

Megan reflects on the whole experience as being very positive. "Having Steph come to my home every week and allowing me to discuss the trials and tribulations of being a mum, without judgement had a huge impact on me, I no longer feel lost or hopeless".

As a reflection-based programme, it can be quite challenging. It's delivered over 8 sessions, through video clips that cover interactions between children and caregivers that are designed to help parents relate to their own parenting experiences, providing them with the opportunity to reflect and learn.

"I would visit Megan each week to help with reflection, talk about the interactions that had occurred and where that sat on the Circle. Being bigger, stronger, wiser and kind, is a tool used to demonstrate how to comfort and protect a child's independence so that you can enjoy and support them". said Steph.

"Steph's approach was always so positive and helped reinforce that you actually don't have to be a 'perfect' Mum. The Circle of Security taught me how to repair your relationship when you drop off the Circle and helped me to recognise that my daughters don't take me for granted. Every week we had handouts that I have kept, so when the time comes that I need a refresher, I have the material to help get me back on track".

"It's rewarding now when people notice a change in my attitude and approach, in fact, even my children have noticed the change in my parenting style and have commented on how much more present and engaged I am. What fascinated me was how using the Circle applies to not just you as a parent, but other relationships with family and friends. With two of my children being older, I assumed it was too late to change the dynamics of our relationships, but the Circle programme showed me you can start making connections at any point. After a few weeks, my default responses to situations had changed. A good example of this would be when my teen comes into my bedroom at the end of the night and sits on my bed. Sometimes she will talk and want to share what has happened in her day, other times she might watch TV with me. Previously, I would tell her to go back to bed or question why she couldn't tell me this stuff earlier in the day, however, now I see the behaviour as her seeking a connection and I understand the impact of taking that opportunity, as small as it is".

"I have been quite vocal throughout my support networks about the positive difference that AFC has made. I have never felt judged and I formed a bond so easily with my Social Worker as she was realistic and honest. I constantly tell people about the Circle of Security and how at any stage if the system wasn't working, I could reassess and look at other options. Aside of the Circle Programme. Steph was able to help advocate for me with several organisations, having the backing of a professional helped me feel less helpless and that I am not battling for entitlements on my own".

MY SUPPORT NETWORKS ABOUT THE POSITIVE DIFFERENCE THAT AFC HAS MADE. 11

This programme is based on decades of research, and since January this year Steph has worked with 9 families. SOCIAL WORKERS IN SCHOOLS

This was an exciting year for SWiS programme development with the addition of two new innovative and collaborative programmes.

Katie Baumler (SWiS) and Lynda Davidson (Home-based Family Support) co-developed and facilitated PAWS (Positive Animals with Students) with three Y 1 and 2 students at one of Katie's schools. The programme is designed to support young people with developing empathy and self-regulation skills through positive interactions with animals. The students loved this programme, which ran for four sessions and included a visit to school from a puppy to learn safe ways of interacting with dogs; a trip to visit the veterinarian and animals at the SPCA; a horseback riding experience at the Riding for Disabled (RDA) in Waikouati; and a picnic at the Botanic Garden aviary. Katie and Lynda are thrilled with the outcomes of this programme and look forward to running it again this year.

Katie also developed a collaborative programme with Stepping Stones (Family Works Otago), a drop-in centre for adults in the South Dunedin community. The facility is located very near to Bathgate Park School and seemed an excellent partnership to provide real world experiences and life skills for young people. The programme, MakerSpace, involved two Year 8 students working with a Stepping Stones employee and volunteer at the facility's workshop over 10 weeks to design and build a lost property box for the school. Once this project was finished, the boys also supported the volunteer with repairing a gate for an elderly member of the community and finished up with a personal project - one of the boys renovated his skateboard and the other created a shield from wood. All parties involved with this programme thoroughly enjoyed the process and outcomes. In addition to this programme, Stepping Stones also invited Katie and four Year 8 girls to partner with a ladies group who sew tote bags for the op shop every Friday. The girls spent a morning with the group and each came away with a beautiful and unique tote bag. For most of them, it was the first time they had ever used a sewing machine and they are still talking about the experience. Katie looks forward to continuing this partnership and offering similar opportunities to youth across her schools

PLAY THERAPY SERVICE

We have been offering Play Therapy since 2015. It is a therapeutic approach where the child, through the therapeutic relationship and within the context of play can safely begin to explore complex issues within their lives, such as trauma, grief, separation and emotional regulation.

FOR MY CHILD, I SEE HER USING STRATEGIES SHE HAS LEARNED IN THE PLAY ROOM OUT IN THE REAL WORLD THAT HELP HER COPE AND GROW IN LIFE.

In the last year, 25 Otago families have had play therapy.

COUNSELLING SERVICE

As well as Play Therapy, we also offer counselling to parents to address past or present issues that may be impacting on the well-being of their children and family. This year, we worked with 77 counselling clients and 95.5% of clients engaged in counselling achieved a reliable or clinically significant change.

RESTORATIVE JUSTICE

We are the only provider of Restorative Justice in Otago, and the service covers the Dunedin and Alexandra courts. This community-based justice programme offers victims of a crime an opportunity to participate in a process to address the harm done. All referrals are received through the Justice system and taking part is voluntary. The victim and perpetrator are invited to meet together with trained facilitators to discuss what happened and what can realistically be done by the offender to put things right. We have a very skilled and experienced Restorative Justice team who achieve great outcomes for victims and the community.

THANK YOU!

Over the last twelve months, we have embraced new fundraising opportunities:

- In September, we held a successful Spring Clothes sale at St John's Roslyn.
- In November, we ran our first street appeal in Dunedin. Despite the cold weather on the day we raised the agency profile and have developed a footprint to make this an annual event.

Without the generosity of our volunteers, referrers and all of our supporters, the work we so passionately do would not be possible. This includes 166 individuals and families who have donated to us during the past year. Thank you, your support is invaluable.
